

"There is surely a future hope for you, and your hope will not be cut off." Proverbs 23:18

Together, as the Church we are called to be Jesus' hands and feet, serving those most in need. One way we get to do this is through ADRA, through serving those most in need and helping families access a brighter future, free from poverty and hardship.

What is the ADRA Appeal Offering?

The ADRA Appeal Offering is an annual offering collected in Adventist churches around the world to ensure the Adventist Development and Relief Agency (ADRA) is able to implement life-changing projects that help families living in poverty. In Australia and New Zealand, this offering takes place on the first Sabbath in October.

How will the funds be used?

ADRA New Zealand works in the Pacific and Southeast Asia alongside communities to create better lives for families. This includes providing clean water and latrines to rural communities, helping families access nutritious food to improve their health, teaching financial, agricultural, and business skills to help families have a secure and better income.

Further details about our current projects that this offering is supporting can be found on our website:
